CHATS ABOUT MEN.

Senator Henry L. Dawes was a genuine New England schoolmaster for a few years after graduation from college.

Sir James Crichton Browne, an eminent dental authority, is quoted as authority for the assertion that future generations in England are threatened with toothlessness.

Lord Rosebery is credited with this sarcastic comment on the taste of the people of Sydney, New South Wales: "They sit on twenty-two guinea chairs and look at sixteen shilling oleographs."

The estate of 10,000 acres on which Mr. George Vanderbilt is erecting a baronial castle in North Carolina represents forty farms, which were bought up from the mountaineers at a total cost of fully $600,000.

Stephen A. Douglas, son of the "Little Giant," Illinois' great Democratic leader, will be married in the spring to Miss May Tudor, now a student at Wells college. The marriage will take place just after her graduation.

John Boyd Thacher, of Albany, has presented that city with the original bill, signed by Queen Anne and Earl Godolphin, to compensate Albany's first mayor, Peter Schuyler, for taking four Indian chiefs to England in 1710.

Sir James Home-Spears, whose approaching marriage with the beautiful American, Miss Green, is announced, is thirty-one. He was in the Black Watch, but retired. He belongs to an old Scotch family. There was a barony in the family 400 years ago.

Congressman Henry Page, of Maryland, who has just been appointed chief judge of the first judicial circuit of his state, is the son of a Mr. Christfield, but he dropped the surname and began using his second Christian name instead while yet a young man.

Rev. Samuel Wakefield, D. D., LL. D., and wife, of Lathrop, are a remarkable couple. He is ninety-four years old, and his wife is but a few years his junior. They were married seventy-one years ago and have ten children living. No death has occurred in the family for sixty-one years.

Citizen George Francis Train addressed 20,000 Pennsylvania farmers the other day on "Red-hot Public Events." He began in this way: "I propose to talk treason, and if any little, one horse militia colonel attempts to hang me up here by the thumbs for doing it I'll kill him on the spot." Mr. Train talked "treason" for two hours and was not interfered with.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Maine has wild land worth $30,000,000 at a low estimate.

Almost every country on the earth has its own standard mile.

For every four shillings spent in England on drink only a halfpenny is expended on education.

According to a calculation published in a London paper, the entire population of the world could stand on a field ten miles square.

As a result of the widespread use of macaroni in Italy the peasants of that country consume more flour than the peasants of any other land.

Numerous experiments to determine the best fire resisting materials for the construction of doors proved that wood covered with tin resisted the fire better than an iron door.

The workers in the London hospitals amount to 6,000 persons, of whom some 1,300 are honorary medical officers who devote their time to the treatment of disease without fee of any kind.

The formation of a new island in the Caspian sea, near Baku, Russia, by upheaval is announced. Its surface is reported to be irregular and composed of blackish gray and yellow hardened mud.

The United States now holds twenty-one law firms made up of husbands and wives. In addition to these, there are at least 180 American women who practice law in the courts or publish legal publications.

Hand woven tapestries are now reproduced in such a perfect manner as to make a most satisfactory substitute for the real and vastly more expensive fabric, and constituting, in fact, an industrial art of positive importance.

WHISPERS ABOUT WOMEN.

The wife of Adlai E. Stevenson is a niece of the late General S. S. Fry.

Baroness Gustave de Rothschild's collar of pearls, worn by her at the opera, is valued at $40,000.

Miss Sarah Pollard owns a half section of land in Polk county, Minn., which she works without any help except in harvest season.

Mrs. Ellen Harris, who organized the first ladies' aid society in this country soon after the firing on Fort Sumter, is living in Florence, Italy, at an advanced age.

In the city of Rome, N. Y., there is a colored colony whose spiritual wants for the past four years have been ministered to by a colored woman, Mrs. M. R. Villodas.

Mrs. Julia Stark Evans, of Hampton, Ia., although the wife of an active lawyer and the mother of five children, is studying for graduation at the state university.

Miss Kate Pier, court commissioner of Milwaukee, married Jacob Yondall and Adelpena Hanson, of Chicago, a few days ago. They were the first couple to be married by a woman in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Fannie McCormick, of Great Bend, Kan., was elected state worthy foreman of the Knights of Labor at their last annual meeting. This is the first recognition of a woman as a state officer in the Knights of Labor.

STAGE GLINTS.

Miss Virginia Buchanan and Miss Mary Shaw are late additions to Mr. John Drew's company.

"Surrender," the new war comedy by Mr. Augustus Thomas, will be first produced at the Columbia theater, Boston, on Nov. 10.

A new farcical comedy called "The Sportsman" has been secured by Mr. Charles Frohman. It is in three acts and is by the author of "Jane."

During the last week of his engagement at Proctor's theatre, New York, Mr. Robert B. Mantell proposes to present "Hamlet" and possibly "Othello."

"Dartmoor," a comedy drama by Arthur Law, which was presented in England by Mr. E. S. Willard, is to be sent on the road with Mr. J. H. Gilmour in the principal part.

Mr. William Gillette, the author, is at present on his way to New York. He is said to be somewhat improved in health. His next work will be the staging of his spectacle, "Ninety Days from Date."

In signing her three years' contract with Messrs. Litt and Davis Miss Annie Lewis bound herself not to marry while the contract is in existence. Should she break the contract in this respect she will forfeit $5,000.

A play about to be produced in Vienna is called "Among the Anthropophagi," and has for its heroes the explorers Stanley and De Brazza. The action begins with the departure of the explorers for the Congo river, and the play contains several scenes laid in the heart of Africa.

Mrs. Francis Hodgson Burnett has written a one act play founded on a story by Dickens that has been purchased by Mr. Charles Frohman. The principal part is for a child, and Mr. Frohman has selected Master Wallie Eddinger to play it. A name has not yet been selected.

RAILROAD JOTTINGS.

The Northwestern has opened a new station at Cudahy, Wis., 74-10 miles south of Milwaukee.
